

Eleversion Budget

Round Narrative

This is the budget for development of Eleversion, a Creative Commons Catalyst 2010 grant proposal. This proposal is submitted by Karl Ward <karl@ghostghost.net> on behalf of Round Narrative, an artist community organization based in New York, NY, USA.

Item	Amount (USD)	Comment
Developer contract: milestone 1	$1000	Integration of P2P/decentralized storage
Developer contract: milestone 2	$1000	Integration of versioning
Developer contract: milestone 3	$1000	Integration of metadata model
Developer contract: milestone 4	$1000	Integration of threaded conversations
Developer contract: milestone 5	$1000	Development of version management
Total	$5000

About Eleversion:

Eleversion aims to provide a platform for content + metadata hosting and collaborative development, tailored to the needs of decentralized collaborators working within the Creative Commons ecosystem. Off-the-shelf open source tools will be evaluated, with an eye toward extending/integrating existing tools rather than building from scratch. If existing tools will not suffice, we will write our own open source lightweight collaboration platform.

Karl Ward
Executive Producer, Round Narrative
karl@ghostghost.net